Soirees of Pyongyang Working People Held to Celebrate the 30th Birthday of the Republic

On September 10, the capital city of Pyongyang was animated with a grand parade of one-million working people at the Kim Il Sung Square and with the mass gymnastic display "Juche Korea" at the Moranbong Stadium. As the night was falling, the whole city became enlivened with soirees lit by brilliant illuminations.

Working people in their holiday best streamed into the Kim Il Sung Square, threading their way through the festively-bedecked streets. In an instant, the square was packed to overflowing with working men and women.

Put up in place of honour at the square was a portrait of the great leader of our Party and our people Comrade Kim Il Sung.

Floating high in the sky above the square were balloons ribboned with streamers bearing the slogans: "Long live the great leader Comrade Kim Il Sung!" and "Long live the glorious Workers' Party of Korea!" and the letters "May the great leader enjoy a long life in good health!" and balloons from which were hanging big national flags of the Republic.

The square was bright as daytime, flooded with a variety of neon signs and searchlights.

Party and government cadres enjoyed the holiday together with representatives from all parts of the country who were participating in the celebration functions dedicated to the 30th birthday of the Republic and working people in the city.

The soiree was attended by Comrade Han Dok Su, Chairman of the Central Standing Committee of Chongryon (the General Association of Korean Residents in Japan), who was leading the congratulatory group of Koreans in Japan for celebrating the 30th birthday of the DPRK, and members of Chongryon delegations who were on a visit to the homeland.

When the soiree started with the singing in chorus of the "Song of General Kim Il Sung", working men and women, formed in scores of rings, danced joyfully to the accompaniment of the playing of music and pangchang, presenting a beautiful sea of flowers across the square.

While the dance permeated with revolutionary optimism was going on, gun salvos boomed over the Taedong River, splendidly adorning the nocturnal sky with varicoloured fireworks. At the moment those present at the soiree shouted aloud "Long live the great leader Comrade Kim Il Sung!" aglow with the feelings of unbounded respect and gratitude for the great leader who founded and is leading the Republic, the banner of freedom and happiness for our people.

That day members of foreign delegations who came to join our people in celebrating the 30th birthday of the Republic and a good many foreign guests in Pyongyang intermingled with the working people of the capital. They danced with them, deepening their sentiments of friendship and solidarity.

The soiree was rounded off with the chorus of "Long Life and Good Health to the Leader".

The participants in the evening get-together enjoyed a repertoire of music and dance pieces by the artistes of the Song and Dance Ensemble of the Korean People's Army.

At the plazas facing the Pyongyang Gymnasium and the February 8 House of Culture working people's pleasant soirees took place and artistes of central art troupes entertained holiday-makers with a diversified programme.

In the evening working people, youth and students in Pyongyang enjoyed themselves aboard flower-decorated boats on the Taedong in celebration of the 30th birthday of the Republic.

In the daytime makeshift stages were set up by the pond in front of the house at Mangyongdae, the cradle of revolution, on the Mangyong Hill and on the expanse of the Mangyongdae Kalmaeji and at pleasure grounds for working people such as those on Mt. Taesong, Moran Hill and Rungna Islet. At these open-air resorts professional and amateur artistes in the city gave art performances, adding to the delight of enjoyers on the holiday.

Delegations and delegates of different countries participating in the celebrations of the 30th DPRK birthday appreciated the field presentations together with working people in the city.
